DETAILED ACTION

Election/Restrictions

1. Restriction is required under 35 U.S.C. 121 and 372.

This application contains the following inventions or groups of inventions which are not so linked as to form a single general inventive concept under PCT Rule 13.1.

In accordance with 37 CFR 1.499, applicant is required, in reply to this action, to elect a single invention to which the claims must be restricted.

Group I, claim(s) 1-3 and 5-16, drawn to method for detecting altered metabolism of a substrate of a FMO, or susceptibility of a patient to a substrate of a FMO enzyme or a predisposition of a patient with a disorder related to the same.

Group II, claim(s) 4-7, drawn to drawn to a method for detecting a predisposition to hypertension.

Group III, claim(s) 17-18, drawn to method for treatment of an individual having a disorder associated with an altered activity of a flavin-containing monooxygenase FMO enzyme.

2. The inventions listed as Groups I-III do not relate to a single general inventive concept under PCT Rule 13.1 because, under PCT Rule 13.2, they lack the same or corresponding special technical features for the following reasons:

The groups are each drawn to methods with unique goals and effects which are not joined by a special technical feature in view of the prior art. With regard to groups I-II, these groups are drawn to methods for detecting phenotypes in patients and have a common step of detecting a mutation or polymorphic variant in the gene encoding FMO enzyme in a patient. This step is not a special technical feature in view of the prior art, as evidenced at least by Akerman et al. (1999, as cited in IDS and international search report). It is noted that claims 8-16 have not been grouped with group II even though these claims depend in the alternative from claim 4. These claims have not been grouped with claim 2 because they do not appear to properly depend from claim 4 because they further limit elements not recited in claim 4. If applicant intends for these claims to be dependent from claim 4, applicant should clarify this situation in response to this requirement. Nonetheless, the methods of groups I and II do not share a common special technical feature in view of the prior art. Further, with regard to group III, this method does not share any technical feature with groups I and II since it is drawn to a method of treatment and not to detecting phenotypes associated with polymorphisms.

3. This application contains claims directed to more than one species of the generic invention. These species are deemed to lack unity of invention because they are not so linked as to form a single general inventive concept under PCT Rule 13.1.

The species are as follows:

With regard to groups I and II, the species are each individual mutation and polymorphism recited in claim 7, ten different variants in total.

Applicant is required, in reply to this action, to elect a single species to which the claims shall be restricted if no generic claim is finally held to be allowable. The reply must also identify the claims readable on the elected species, including any claims subsequently added. An argument that a claim is allowable or that all claims are generic is considered non-responsive unless accompanied by an election.

Upon the allowance of a generic claim, applicant will be entitled to consideration of claims to additional species which are written in dependent form or otherwise include all the limitations of an allowed generic claim as provided by 37 CFR 1.141. If claims are added after the election, applicant must indicate which are readable upon the elected species. MPEP § 809.02(a).

4. The claims are deemed to correspond to the species listed above in the following manner:

Claims 1-6 are generic to all species, and claims 7-16 depend from claim 7 which recites all ten species in the alternative.

5. The species listed above do not relate to a single general inventive concept under PCT Rule 13.1 because, under PCT Rule 13.2, the species lack the same or corresponding special technical features for the following reasons: Variations in the FMO gene were known at the time the invention was made, see for example Akerman et al (1999).

Art Unit: 1634

Applicant is advised that the reply to this requirement to be complete must include an election of the invention to be examined even though the requirement be traversed (37 CFR 1.143).

6. Applicant is reminded that upon the cancellation of claims to a non-elected invention, the inventorship must be amended in compliance with 37 CFR 1.48(b) if one or more of the currently named inventors is no longer an inventor of at least one claim remaining in the application. Any amendment of inventorship must be accompanied by a request under 37 CFR 1.48(b) and by the fee required under 37 CFR 1.17(i).
